How the Democracy Rebuke.

The St. Louis Democrat tells home truths. It is true that the there power is as tyrannical as it can be; nor does it attempt to conceal it. It avows its object, and tells the Democracy that it must submit or perish. The St. Louis Democrat, notwithstanding, says:

"Democracy has learned the lesson of our party into compliance with its demands. It now threats to override even the Constitution and the Union itself, and make them bend to the best of power and its aggressive propagandism. The Democracy has been so effectually cowed that it has lost its spirit. Fillmore has fallen in these hotel Fillmore and Buchanan, the two hotel Dutch were under the same influence, he has seen the Democracy of the Country abjure the principles of the party and be a tool and defender to cover up with a veil the advances of her master—she has yielded to the demands of the Pacific Mailed from the map by a Democratic President—she has yielded to the demands of the Pacific Mailed and hitherto defeated appropriations by a President—she has yielded to the demands of the Pacific Mailed for an Atlantic route—she has yielded to make her own soil also the theatre of contention, but even all this, and nothing short of it, will not satisfy the Democracy. Nothing short of it will not satisfy the Democracy. Nothing short of it will not satisfy the Democracy. Nothing short of it

A good article will always triumph over any competition. It has been said that every day is proof of some new and valuable invention, or improvement, or discovery, or improvement of old, and it was found capable of doing the work, and doing it better than any other article. Such is the case with the Ambrotype and Daguerreotype Gallery of Mr. Fassett, 115 Lake street, Chicago. It has been tried and found wanting by many of the people and tried, and not found wanting by many of the people. Mr. Fassett has for a long time been in the business, and knows how to do it, and does it well. He has a large and well selected stock of Daguerreotype materials, and will sell cheap for cash or good paper. He will be found at his Gallery, 115 Lake street, Chicago.
